Artist statement

I am taking the ordinary and attempting to bring my personal emotion and perception of the world to my video work. I view the world from a unique perspective due to my dyslexia, it allows me to think differently and present a new facet of the human experience. I may be wholly aware and oblivious to my surroundings all at once, as my mind is in several places at any given time. The only time I am laser-focused is when I have entered flow state. The act of creation allows me to enter that state and slow my mind – to change from constant chaos to calm waters.
